For immediate release

London - Ken Coran announced today his intention to stand as the Ontario Liberal Party candidate for the upcoming by-election in the riding of London West. Ken will be acclaimed by the London West Provincial Liberal Association at a nomination meeting to be held Tuesday.

Ever since the resignation of Chris Bentley, the London West Riding Association has been looking for the right candidate. After an extensive search, the nomination committee put forward only one name to the Ontario Liberal Party office- Ken Coran. Coran was also the only candidate to file nomination papers with the Ontario Liberal Party. This is the nomination process that is followed in every riding.

Ken is a proud resident of the London West riding and a long-time member of the London West Provincial Liberal Association.

Ken is committed to being a strong voice for our community at Queen's Park. Having served as a school teacher in the Thames Valley School Board for twenty five years he knows the challenges faced by families from all walks of life in our community.

"I believe in Premier Wynne and it is her values of collaboration, openness and honesty that have drawn me into politics. I have never been shy about expressing my views so rest assured I will be a strong and loud voice for the families of London West at Queen's Park," said Coran.

"I have dedicated my entire working life to help create a strong education system, good jobs and opportunities for our families' right here in London. I look forward to drawing on my past experience and using a collaborative approach with the residents of London West, to ensure they have a strong voice for our community at Queen's Park.

Ken has lived in London for nearly forty years.

The London West Provincial Liberal Association will hold its nomination meeting at 6:30pm on Tuesday July 2nd at the Civic Gardens Complex, 265 Springbank Drive.
